March Roundup Explained

Purpose | Cost | Support | Commitment

Purpose

Most associations like to take time out now and then to observe some phase of their development. Holding a convention is a natural thing to do. In AA, such an event is far more than a routine cause for celebration. A convention also sets up a useful opportunity to share the AA experience in a broader way. A common misconception is that conventions are the same as regular AA meetings. While AA membership requires no dues or fees, this does not mean that AA-related conventions are free to attend. Conventions are special events, not regular AA meetings. A large convention, like March Roundup (MRU), requires a substantial amount of planning, preparation, and expense.

Cost

MRU conventions are held in hotels, and there is a charge for the use of their facilities. Costs include travel and lodging for speakers, coffee, printing, and postage, to name a few.

Support

MRU is also self-supporting. Costs of the event are paid by registration fees. No baskets are passed. Cost is nominal compared to a weekend's entertainment elsewhere.

Commitment

Although financial restraints ought never prohibit the Delegate's ability to participate, each area is asked to contribute toward the Delegate's expenses associated with attending the annual General Service Conference. Area 33 hosts MRU to uphold this tradition of self-support, with the remaining funds contributing to the functioning of Area 33 and the vital work of our committees in fulfilling our primary purpose.

Contributions

Coffee is a significant expense at MRU, along with other costs that are funded solely by contributions from members like you. Even if you cannot attend, a small contribution may help someone get sober! We need help from groups and individual members to defray these costs. Please help out if you can so that others can enjoy coffee or the gift of sobriety. Go to www.aa-semi.org and click on the link for MRU or scan the PayPal QR code to donate.
